HUNGARIANS WIN REVOLUTION

Immediate Request For Withdrawal Of Soviet Union Troops

Vienna, Oct. 31.

Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy said today in Budapest:
"The revolution has won", Radio Budapest reported.

Nagy, who was addressing a crowd in Parliament Square, said: "We have chased out the Rakosi-Geroe gang." He declared: "We will not allow any interference in our domestic affairs."

Premier Nagy was referring to former Hungarian Workers Party First Secretary, Matyas Rakosi, who resigned recently, and Erno Geroe, who replaced Rakosi in this post for a short time but resigned last week. Both are reputed to be pro-Stalinists.

Leave Hungary

Radio Budapest reported that Nagy told the crowd that it was not he who had called in the Soviet troops to help put down the national revolt.

Nagy said that he would request the immediate withdrawal of Russian forces and termination of the Communist Warsaw Treaty.

Insurgent leaders, including representatives of rebels in the armed forces, had demanded during the day that all Soviet troops should leave Hungary by the end of the year.

They also demanded that the Government should call a conference of signatories to the Warsaw Treaty and denounce it.

Communist forces in Europe are unified under the treaty, signed last year as the Communist world's answer to the North Atlantic Pact.

Nagy told the great crowd that the Warsaw Treaty would be terminated and the immediate withdrawal of Russian troops requested.

Rise Up Again

The insurgent appeal for the withdrawal of Russian troops by December 31 threatened: "We will rise up in arms again if this condition is not fulfilled."

The insurgents also demanded that the Government take over the country's uranium mines.

(In a statement last night, the Soviet Government offered to withdraw its troops from Hungary, Rumania and Poland. But, it said, the question could not be decided in unilateral negotiations as the Warsaw Treaty laid down that a withdrawal was possible only if agreed to by all the signatories.

Prisoners Freed

(The statement added that the Government was ready to start talks with the Hungarian Government on the general position of Soviet troops in Hungary. It said it has allowed Soviet troops to be used to help restore order "on the demand of the Hungarian Government.")

Hungarian political prisoners sentenced under the regimes of Party First Secretaries, Matyas Rakosi and Erno Geroe, have been freed, the radio announced.—France-Press and Reuter.

AMERICAN
PRECAUTIONS

San Francisco, Oct. 31.

Air bases in the United States have been placed in a state of "watch" as a result of the present critical situation in the Middle East, Air Force General Roy Lynn, commander of the American defence air forces in the western United States, said today.

General Lynn, who was addressing a meeting of members of the Air Force Association in San Francisco, said the "watch" state should not be confused with the "alert" state and was merely "the first step up the ladder" of precautionary measures.

The General said that no American aircraft had been "moved up" and no leaves cancelled.—France-Press.

DRUG HAUL

Manila, Oct. 31.

A Philippine navy patrol boat seized a cargo of penicillin tablets aboard a motor launch in Southern Philippine waters on Wednesday, navy headquarters said.

The navy said 25 cases of penicillin were found on board the launch which came from North Borneo. The patrol boat intercepted it off the island of Tawi-Tawi, Southern Philippines. The boat and cargo were turned over to the Tawi-Tawi customs authorities for investigation, the report said.—Reuter.

Evacuation Of
U.S. Citizens

Washington, Oct. 31.

The State Department spokesman, Lincoln White, said at his news conference today that evacuation of U.S. citizens from Jordan and Syria had been "virtually completed" and was expected to pick up speed in Israel and Egypt.

He said that Air Force transport planes were now on a shuttle service between Tel Aviv and Athens and it was reported that motor conveyances were being prepared for the evacuation of American citizens from Cairo.—United Press.

Sino-Burmese
Friendship
Acclaimed

Tokyo, Oct. 31.

Ex-Premier U Nu of Burma declared yesterday that "an edifice of friendship" between China and Burma was not difficult to build because of "common thoughts and feelings."

U Nu, now chairman of Burma's Anti-Fascist People's Freedom League, spoke at a banquet given in his honour on Tuesday evening in Tientsin, Radio Peking reported today.

"The building of an edifice of friendship between China and Burma was not difficult because the Chinese and Burmese peoples had common thoughts and feelings," he said.

The Burmese leader, who arrived in Tientsin at noon on Tuesday, added: "I feel particularly happy every time I come to China because the Chinese people receive me like a kinsman. In Burma only Chinese nationals could be called compatriots by the Burmese people."

WHY HONGKONG MISSED WHO ASSISTANCE

London, Oct. 31.

Mr John Rankin, Labour, asked in the House of Commons today why the Colonial Secretary had ruled that Hongkong should not receive assistance from the World Health Organisation for the training of urgently needed medical personnel and whether he was aware of the difficulty that had resulted from the cancellation of fellowships arranged two years ago.

The Colonial Secretary, Mr Alan Lennox-Boyd, replied: "The governing principle is that assistance from the United Nations specialised agencies is designed to meet technical needs which cannot be met from local (or in the case of dependent territories metropolitan) resources."

In reply to the second part of the question, inclusion of these or any other fellowships in World Health Organisation budgets does not imply a commitment by Her Majesty's Government to take them up.—Reuter.

In all the cases quoted training can be supplied in the United Kingdom."

"It is not intended as an alternative source of financial aid."

Hitler's Dead

BRITAIN AND FRANCE ACCUSED OF NOT TELLING AMERICA

PAUL SCOTT RANKINE

Washington, Oct. 31.

Mr John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, and other officials here have given private briefings to "United States correspondents only" on the Middle East crisis, voicing recommendations against Britain and France rather than American policy, it was disclosed tonight.

Among the accusations reported today by some very responsible newspapers represented at one of Mr Dulles' private briefings are these:

★ 1. That "Britain and France in the past week carefully hid their plans from the United States, even giving this country what is now considered misleading information."

★ 2. That "United States Ambassadors were consciously misled into believing that London and Paris actually were hopeful of working out a settlement with President Nasser."

Kept In Dark

★ 3. That "both the British and French military attaches in Israel knew what Israel was up to some 24 to 36 hours before her forces crossed the Egyptian border, and that the American military attaché who is usually very frank with his Anglo-French colleagues was kept in the dark."

★ 4. That the original Israeli communique announcing the crossing into Egypt shows evidence of collusion of Israel with Britain and France.

The argument here is that the communique announced with surprising candour that the object of their raid was the Suez Canal and that this was intended to serve as a pretext for the French and British to intervene.

★ 5. That Israel may be paid off for her assistance to Britain and France by receiving at some future date the part of Jordan across the Jordan River and the rest of Jerusalem in a partition of Jordan between Iraq and Israel.

Brutal

★ 6. That "the United States considers the British ultimatum to Egypt one of the most brutal ever delivered by any nation."

★ 7. That "by taking military action against President Nasser, the British and French have uniquely weakened the Western argument against Soviet imperialism, precisely at the moment when East European nations are revolting against Moscow's domination."

None of these charges has been made publicly by Mr Dulles or any other State Department official. — China Mail Special.

United Press reports that US officials today confirmed reports that the British and French military attaches in Tel Aviv were informed of the Israeli invasion of Egypt 36 hours before Israeli forces struck into Egypt.

They added that the US military attaché in the Israeli capital had received no indication of the impending Israeli moves.

Unidentified

The officials refused to identify themselves or to be quoted directly. This is considered standard diplomatic procedure in Washington.

It appeared that US officials, both here and abroad have been kept in the dark ever since preparations for the Israeli invasion of Egypt began, United Press concluded.

Capetown, Oct. 31. — Chrisie Visser, aged 17, was out fishing in his father's motor boat with Mr L. Lambert and his son, Richard, and Mr Dennis Markon, of Bellville, when a 7 ft shark jumped into the boat. The shark was killed with a spear. — China Mail Special.

SECURITY COUNCIL URGED TO HALT HOSTILITIES

Moscow, Oct. 31.

Russia tonight formally condemned the "aggressive action" of Britain, France and Israel in attacking Egypt, and called for "immediate" action by the United Nations Security Council to halt it.

In the first official statement since the outbreak of hostilities, the Soviet Government declared "Egypt has become a victim of aggression."

"Her territory has been invaded by the Israeli troops, and the menace of the landing of the British and French troops is threatening her territory."

Calculated

The statement charged that the "facts show that the invasion of Israel troops was obviously calculated as a pretext for the Western powers, in the first place Britain and France, to bring their troops to the service of the Arab states, and in particular to the zone of the Suez Canal."

The full text of the statement follows: "Egypt has become a victim of aggression. Her territory has been invaded by the Israeli troops and the menace of the landing of the British and French troops is threatening her territory. On the night of October 29-30 the Israeli troops crossed the Egyptian frontier and started military operations moving along the Sinai peninsula in the direction of the Suez Canal."

"The action of the Israeli Government represents an act of armed aggression and an open violation of the UN Charter."

"Facts show that the invasion of Israel troops was obviously calculated as a pretext for the Western powers, in the first place Britain and France, in order to bring their troops to the service of the Arab states and in particular to the zone of the Suez Canal."

Disguised

"The aggressive action of the Western powers is disguised by reference to the colonialist declaration of the US, Britain and France of 1955, which declaration was unanimously rejected by all Arab States."

"Acting as a weapon of the imperialist circles, which are striving to restore the regime of colonial oppression in the East, the Israeli Government has challenged all Arab peoples and have all the peoples of the East who are struggling against colonialism."

"The path taken by the Israeli ruling extremist circles is criminal and dangerous in the first place for the State of Israel itself and its future."

"Following an armed attack by Israel, the governments of Britain and France on October 30 presented an ultimatum to Egypt to make available to their troops key positions on Egyptian territory in Suez, Port Said and Ismailia, allegedly for the purpose of preventing military operations between Israel and Egypt."

"Despite the fact that the Egyptian Government, defending the country's sovereignty and territorial integrity, rejected this demand, Britain and France dispatched their troops for landing on Egyptian territory."

"The demand of the governments of Britain and France have constituted an open armed intervention against Egypt, thereby violating the basic rights of the sovereign Egyptian State."

"Such action on the part of the governments of Britain and France are incompatible with the principle and aims of the UN and constitute a flagrant violation of pledges solemnly assumed by UN member States and are an aggression against the Egyptian State."

"The Soviet Government resolutely condemns the aggressive action by the governments of Britain, France and Israel against Egypt. The peace-loving peoples of the world ardently sympathise with the just struggle of the Egyptian people upholding as they do their national independence."

"The Soviet Government holds that the UN Security Council, for the sake of preserving peace and tranquillity in the area of the Near and Middle East, must take immediate steps to stop aggressive operations of Britain, France and Israel against Egypt and must ensure the immediate withdrawal of the troops of the interventionists from Egyptian territory."

"The Soviet Government holds that the entire responsibility for the dangerous consequences connected with the above-mentioned aggressive actions against Egypt rests squarely on the governments that have embarked on the road of violating peace and security and on the road of aggression."

CARDINAL SAYS HE'S ALL RIGHT

Budapest, Oct. 31.

Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, bent with the weight of his 64 years, was triumphantly returned to Budapest a free man today after seven years of Communist imprisonment and announced he was now physically and mentally "all right."

Tank troops of the Hungarian Army released the Roman Catholic primate from his secret police prison and returned him shortly before noon to the butlered old archbishop's palace which still shows the scars of World War II.

His first move was to go into his old chapel—the one he had not seen for more than seven years—to pray. At each end of the street fronting his palace tanks were posted and young soldiers laden with hand grenades and Tommy guns patrolled the courtyard of the palace.

Looked Tired

Later he received a group of reporters.

Though he looked tired, he said he was in good health. "Thank God I am in good health," he said, "both physically and mentally, although I was very seriously ill while I was in prison."

CARDINAL MINDSZENTY

Asked what illnesses he has suffered from he shrugged and said "I had so many I couldn't even enumerate them. But physically and mentally I am now perfectly all right."

He refused to discuss his plans for the future saying he would give a press conference next Friday. He willingly posed for pictures along with the young soldiers who rescued him from the secret police.

Informed that one of the reporters interviewing him has also been in prison he said "It seems that everyone who is honest has been in prison at one time or another."

The soldiers said the rescue was "spontaneous" decided on early this morning by the whole cadet corps and officers of the tank school at Retasz, 65 miles north of the capital. They said they had known of a "mysterious prisoner" held at the old castle of Edecsaparty for more than a year but only recently learned that it was the Cardinal.

After the "spontaneous" decision, seven soldiers led by a captain drove to the castle and ordered the AVH secret police to release him. Some of the 17 police agents at the castle had already been arrested and the others had fled.

Pilot's 6th Mile Record

Johannesburg, Oct. 31.

"I would sooner fly to London and back than drive through the streets of Johannesburg," said Captain Leonard Inggs, after he had been "grounded" by South African Airways because he has reached the retirement age of 60.

Captain Inggs, believed to be the oldest operating airline pilot in the world, has an impressive record in the sphere of statistics. He has, among other things, flown 6,000,000 air miles (23,000 hours) or spent nearly three years in the air; an accident-free record which has taken him on routes equal to 240 times round the world.

Rifle Gremlin

Des Moines, Oct. 31. Last year while James Grandstaff was cleaning his .22 calibre rifle as he prepared for a shooting trip, it went off and wounded him in the right leg. He sold the rifle.

Recently, Grandstaff borrowed the rifle back and again started to clean it. It went off again wounding him in the left leg.—China Mail Special.

Resistance Appeal

Paris, Oct. 31.

CAIRO Radio tonight broadcast an appeal for "popular resistance against the invaders."

The appeal was made in the name of the Commander-in-Chief of the "National Liberation Army."

The "Liberation Army" appeal was broadcast by Radio Cairo as follows: "The dramatic times we are now living through will be decisive for the future of our country for many generations."

"Since the liberation of Egypt from the imperialist yoke, the French and British imperialists have been trying to impose their will over the Egyptian people, in order to maintain that people in misery and poverty."

PLOTTED

The appeal said that France and Britain had recently plotted against Egypt on several occasions and that the latest plot was to "launch Israel to conquer Egypt."

The appeal continued: "People of Egypt, Sons and grandsons of those who shed their blood for free Egypt, must live. Men, women, old people and young people, take up arms to defend your country in danger."

"People of Egypt, we will win because we have right on our side. The world will know that our people can die to the last man for its freedom, independence and dignity. The future of our children depends on it."

"We shall join battle and we shall die or we shall triumph."

WARNING AGAINST RACIAL TROUBLE

Paris, Oct. 31.

An Egyptian Government Minister warned against racial and religious prejudice tonight in a Radio Cairo broadcast which was believed to reflect fears by the Cairo Government that racial or religious disturbances might break out.

Spok, Secretary Minister for Religious Affairs, told Radio Cairo listeners in an Arab language broadcast that "all men, whatever their religion or their race, are equal in the eyes of Islam."

He said Moslems should judge men by their acts regardless of their origins or religious beliefs. The Minister said: "Imperialism is trying to divide us. Thus we see certain Moslem peoples dissociating themselves from the cause of other Moslem peoples."

"Every Moslem must realise that the world is divided into two camps today: 'the camp of nations who want to be free and the camp of those who want to colonise their fellowmen.'"

Club Honours Pose Problem

By ORWALD JACOBY

THE problem in today's hand is to make two club tricks. South has seven top cards in the remaining three suits.

South won the first trick with the king of spades and led a low club toward dummy. He finessed the jack, losing to East's singleton queen. Then, after he was unable to make a second club trick, and his game contract was defeated.

The correct play of the clubs is to lead low to dummy's ace immediately. When an honour drops, the rest is easy.

If only small clubs appear on the first trick in the lead, South continues by leading a low club from dummy toward his ten. This sure hand second trick even if one of the opponents has started with four clubs headed by the king-queen. Suppose East has all but of the missing clubs. He must put up the queen to win the second club trick. Now South can easily use the ten or jack to drive out the king.

Suppose West has all of the missing clubs. East will show out on the second round of the suit, and South will use the ten to drive out an honour from the West hand. South will later get to his hand in a different suit in order to lead a club toward dummy's jack. This will guarantee him a second club trick.

There are other ways of winning two club tricks if you happen to know just how the missing clubs are divided. The recommended line of play assures you two tricks even if you don't know how the missing cards are divided.

YOUR BIRTHDAY... by STELLA

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1

BORN today, you have exceptionally strong family ties and you may find that you are being influenced more than you should be, by this. The stars have given you exceptional talents in your nature and unless you learn to concentrate on one objective, you may become a mediocre Jack of All Trades. There may be an exception. If you work on one thing, finish it and then go on to the next, you can become master of more than one vocation.

You have great imagination and are highly intuitive. The arts appeal to you. You have talent for making money. You enjoy travelling but will want your own home and friends to which you may return. You have little sense for the value of money or the arduous task of making a job. Yet you enjoy the fine things that money can buy. In other words, you are something of a paradox—a difficult person to understand.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—The new moon brings them a sign of a fine prospect for the balance of the month. Make important purchases now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Someone may be in need of your help today. Give it generously. Property interests also may call for attention.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Your job may show signs of increased opportunity. If not, this is a time to look for a new one which does.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—An extremely active day for all your interests. Business affairs, especially if involving property, need attention.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21)—New opportunities are likely to appear on your horizon. Be sure that you are quick to see them and develop the successful potential.

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20)—If you are planning a visit to a friend you may not have seen for a long time, anticipate a pleasant time.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)—You should be able to be a little more adventurous when it comes to furthering your secret ambitions.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Important affairs can be beneficially settled now. The prospects for profit-taking are better than usual.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)—A sudden change may rearrange your plans to your immediate future. They can be for the best, so adapt to them.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23)—You may be faced with problems involving the very old or the very young.

Experts List "Safety Musts" For

FOUR STAGES OF CHILDHOOD

Washington. PARENTS could prevent most of the accidents which annually kill 12,000 children and permanently injure another 50,000, insurance company surveys show.

The surveys point out that accidents kill more children than do the combined total of the next six causes of death—pneumonia, congenital anomalies, cancer, tuberculosis, leishmaniasis, and heart disease.

Parents could protect their children with simple safety measures, which vary with the age of the child. Safety experts divide childhood into four main stages—with different "safety musts" for each stage:

KITCHEN PRECAUTIONS

1. The helpless stage: During the first year of life, the child must be constantly protected. Even a tiny infant can wiggle and roll, so he cannot be left alone on anything from which he might tumble.

2. The curious stage: During his second year, the child—now a toddler—begins to learn by experience and training. The kitchen becomes his favorite spot because he spends most of his time there with his mother. But the kitchen is the place where most accidents occur from burns, scalds, cuts and poisoning.

The mother's job is to see that cooking utensils on the stove are out of reach with handles turned away from the front. Sharp knives and pointed utensils, when not in use, should be kept in safely latched drawers. Cleansing powders, detergents, kerosene, cleaning fluids—also poisons—must be locked away. The same goes for matches.

3. The exploring stage: When a child reaches three, teaching him becomes important. If his parents show by their own example how to cross streets or handle equipment, the child imitates and there is less need for scoldings and punishment.

SAFETY EDUCATION

4. The independent stage: The 4-to-6-year-old child spends more time outside the house at play and in school. Parental protection is less feasible. Safety education becomes more important.

Minor injuries are inevitable. But they should serve as "object lessons" in safety education. The accident survey estimated that 2,000,000 children yearly suffer accidents that call for medical attention.

The community also has a major role in child safety. Parent-teacher associations can start safety education programmes in schools and see that the schools themselves are not hazards.

The parent, who wants his child to grow up in safety should find out what the police do to inspect public and private premises, to remove dangers lurking in vacant lots, abandoned cellars and garages—United Press.

Her Pets—Turtles—Definitely Have "Personality"

YOU may think of turtles as plodding, witless creatures, but to Mrs. Veronica Vladimiroff they are as warm and personable pets as you can find.

Mrs. Vladimiroff breeds, raises and nurses turtles for a hobby. Her home here is literally crawling with 38 turtles, as well as two horned toads.

The hobby began five years ago when a friend in New York gave Mrs. Vladimiroff three turtles. Since then, the collection has grown to include all sorts, ranging in size from a one and one-half inch map turtle to a 12-inch gopher turtle.

Mrs. Vladimiroff keeps the turtles in her house and lets them outside occasionally to graze on her fenced-in front lawn.

Turtles very definitely have personalities, according to the Miami woman. She says one of her pets is an avid television fan and won't eat unless he gets a pancake for breakfast every day. Another turtle—named Genghis Khan—will eat only chopped lettuce, apples and bananas. Mrs. Vladimiroff ran into trouble recently when one of her turtles came down with pneumonia. She couldn't find a veterinarian who knew anything about sick turtles. But three shots of penicillin administered by Mrs. Vladimiroff cured the patient.

Mrs. Vladimiroff is keeping a close watch now on 24 horned toad eggs and five turtle eggs she has buried in the sand to hatch.—United Press.

A Moonlight Concert

—The Shadows Meet Some Unusual Musicians—

By MAX TRELL

CHRISTOPHER Cricket sat himself down on a blade of grass under the shade of a daisy and said to his friends Knarf and Hand, the shadow children with the turned-about names:

"How would you like to come with me to a concert?"

"Concert?" said Knarf. "What's a concert?"

"A concert," explained Christopher Cricket, "is music made by a lot of musicians all playing at the same time. It's really very beautiful."

"I'd like very much to go," said Knarf.

"So would I," said Hand.

"Only," she said, "who's giving this concert, Christopher?"

"Friends of mine," said Christopher. "Name of the Bullfrog Symphony Orchestra."

Knarf and Hand thought this was a very strange kind of concert to go to.

"You'll enjoy it very much," said Christopher Cricket. "They play beautifully."

So that night, when the moon was up, Knarf and Hand went with their friend Christopher Cricket down to the pond.

There, sitting under the cattails in the swampy water, was the Bullfrog Symphony Orchestra.

There was Mr. Bull Frog. He played a big bull fiddle.

There was Mrs. Bull Frog. She played a little bull fiddle.

There was Mr. Cheesy Frog. He blew a bugle.

There was Mr. Windy Frog. He blew a trombone.

There was Mr. Wacky Frog. He whacked a big drum.

There were other frogs about fifty of them. Some played flutes. Some played harmonicas. Some snapped rubber bands. Some just hit themselves on the head and yelled: "Ouch!"

Green Suit

"Look at the conductor," said Christopher Cricket. He pointed to a frog in a green suit who was so big and so fat that he looked like a moss-covered rock.

He waved a twig in the air. "Get started," he shouted.

Strangely enough, it was cheerful music. It was just the sort of music that fitted with a mid-summer night with little clouds sailing across the moonlit sky.

And this was the most interesting thing of all. Suddenly the fat frog who looked like a moss-covered rock hopped over to Knarf and Hand, and Christopher Cricket and invited them to come and join the Bullfrog Symphony Orchestra.

"But we can't play any instrument," said Hand.

"Oh yes you can," said the big fat frog. He gave Knarf a drum made out of a hollow pumpkin.

He gave Hand a flute made out of a hollow straw.

Mr. Bull Frog played a big bull fiddle.

He gave Christopher Cricket a violin made out of a matchbox and a pencil.

Moon And Stars

Then they all played and played while the moon and stars listened way up in the sky.

And then, toward morning, some wonderful new musicians came along to join the Orchestra.

There was the Cat who played the fiddle. She came with all her kittens. And all the kittens brought their friends. Then the cats came and holed and tooted.

ATTEMPT TO INFLUENCE BULGARIANS TO TITOISM

Belgrade, Oct. 31.
 Scant success has, in the opinion of foreign observers here, attended the Yugoslav Communist Party's first attempt to influence a foreign Communist party, the Bulgarian, towards Titoism since President Tito's secret talks in the Crimea in early October.

Although the two parties, in talks here, reached an agreement in general terms to establish co-operation, both sides appear to have gone home afterwards with feelings of disappointment about the other. Mr. Todor Zhivkov, First Secretary of the Bulgarian Communist Party, who headed the Bulgarian delegation, is reported to have criticised Yugoslav agriculture as that of a nation of peasant proprietors rather than that of a country building socialism.

LAND SOCIALIZED

While in Bulgaria, 75 per cent of the land has been "socialized" that is, brought under public ownership, Yugoslavia has, in the last three years, disbanded four-fifths of her collective farms.

As if to stress that they thought the Yugoslavs had as much to learn from them as they from the Titoists, the Bulgarians proposed that the two countries should exchange delegations to study the state of agriculture in the two countries. The Yugoslavs accepted and a Bulgarian delegation under the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Todor Stefanov, arrived here in mid-October.

When touching on ideological topics in his speeches here, Mr. Zhivkov emphasised the unity rather than differences—as the Yugoslavs did—in the process of building socialism in the various countries. Judging from later reports, this point was one on which President Tito clashed with Soviet leaders in the Crimea.

TRANSITION

Mr. Zhivkov's speeches were given little space in Yugoslav newspapers, but in the Bulgarian press, which carried his and his Yugoslav hosts' speeches in full, he was quoted as saying: "In spite of different forms and methods of building socialism, there cannot be basic differences of substance in the building of socialism in different countries."

The fundamental principles and laws governing the transition period from capitalism to socialism cannot be other than common to all countries which are moving on the road of socialist development. The Yugoslav party, on the other hand, argues that socialism is even developing in some outwardly capitalist societies. In the Yugoslav view, for example, the Scandinavian Socialist parties are moving to socialism just as genuinely as the Eastern European Communist parties.

Yugoslav Communists for their part consider that the Bulgarian leaders are still too much under the influence of Stalinism. Two days after the inter-party agreement on co-operation, the semi-official Yugoslav news agency declared in its comment issued to the foreign press that difficulties, disagreements and unclarified conceptions still existed between them.

The Yugoslav public, however, did not hear of these differences, just as it did not hear of Mr. Zhivkov's divergent views, because the Yugoslav statement was not printed in the Yugoslav press. The public only read about subjects of agreement.

CASE CITED

In private conversation, Communists here objected to the fact that Mr. Zhivkov, unlike other Eastern European leaders, did not publicly express regret for his party's share in the expulsion of Yugoslavia from the Cominform in 1948. They cite the case of Mr. Vlado Chervenkov as proof of the argument that Stalinist elements still hold leading positions in Bulgarian life. Dismissed as Prime Minister in April on the grounds that he had established a personality cult, he is still, the Yugoslav Communists stress, in the Government as a Deputy Prime Minister.

Many people here were surprised that the Bulgarian Yugoslav party talks took place at all. Mr. Zhivkov came on September 22 as head of a parliamentary, not a party, delegation.

LITTLE PUBLICITY

Only on October 6, one day after President Tito's return from the Crimea and two days before they were to return to Sofia, did the leaders of the parliamentary delegations transform themselves into an unscheduled party delegation and hold talks with the Yugoslav leaders. They announced the inter-party agreement on the next day, October 7.

Between September 22 and October 6, the Yugoslav press gave little publicity to the Bulgarian's activities, apparently under the impression that their visit was to be of little importance.—China Mail Special.

Film Censors Make More Cuts

Wellington, Oct. 31.
 While only four films failed to reach New Zealand screens last year as a result of censorship, excisions from films rose steeply from 469 in 1954 to 580 in the last year. Scenes most frequently requiring eliminating were those depicting brutality and violence, according to the annual report of the Government film censor, Mr. Gordon Mirams, tabled in the House of Representatives.

The other major cause of cutting, under the general heading of sex, remained proportionately the same as in the previous year—12 per cent.

HEAVIEST

Cutting was heaviest in the field of western films. Out of a total of 69 examined, only eight escaped cutting. The scenes cut were mainly on the grounds of violence. Seven of the westerns were screened only for adult entertainment.

Many scenes cut from incoming films were those depicting brutality—the beating-up of people when held down and defenceless, and the use of knives, particularly the modern "spring-open" variety.

Largely by cutting, the censor was able to give 63 per cent of films general exhibition certificates. There were 35 per cent of all feature films subject to cutting.—China Mail Special.

Red Tank Removed

ITALIAN PLEA

Rome, Oct. 31.
 The Italian Cabinet tonight called on Britain and France and other allied countries to "exert every effort to attain an agreement for the ending of military action" in the Middle East.

The communiqué said the news of the Israeli invasion of Egyptian territory and of the British and French offensive had been received with "lively apprehension" by Italian public opinion and by the Government.

The British branch of the United Nations Association in a statement tonight said the action against Egypt had not only divided the British Commonwealth but "struck a blow at the authority of the United Nations."

The statement added: "We urge Her Majesty's Government to desist from its present course of action and to revert to collective action through the United Nations."—Reuter.

Farouk Sends Messages

Rome, Oct. 31.
 A spokesman for former Egyptian King Farouk disclosed today that the ex-King had sent messages appealing for a peaceful settlement of the Suez Canal dispute to President Eisenhower, French President Rene Coty and British Prime Minister, Sir Anthony Eden.

Farouk sent his messages on September 19, urging the three statesmen to try all means of peacefully resolving the Suez Canal problem.

The ex-monarch, who said that he had given up his throne in order to avoid bloodshed, added that the Egyptian people should not be held responsible for the acts of their government nor should they pay in blood for its errors.—France-Press.

German Order Of Merit Restored

Munich, Oct. 31.
 Bavaria's State Government is to reintroduce the province's own "Order of Merit", which was abolished under the Weimar constitution in 1919.

According to a Bill which has been introduced in the Bavarian senate, the Order will be awarded for outstanding services to the province and its people, and foreigners will be eligible. Membership will be limited to 2,000.

The medal is in the form of a blue-edged white Maltese Cross with the state coat of arms on one side and the golden Bavarian lion on the other, and it is worn on a blue and white ribbon round the neck.—China Mail Special.

Afro-Asian Group In Favour Of Assembly Session

United Nations, Oct. 31.
 Members of the big Asian-African group in the UN today expressed "a strong feeling" in favour of an emergency session of the General Assembly to deal with the Middle East crisis.

The group met informally for 30 minutes prior to a Security Council session on the situation in Egypt.

Dr. T. Sudjarwo, of Indonesia, group chairman, said it was the consensus of the group that a special Assembly session should be called in view of the Security Council's failure so far to find a solution.

He said the group appeared to favour a polling of UN members on calling a special session rather than to have the Assembly called into session by the Security Council. He added, however, that the latter course had not been excluded from their thinking.

Factual Way

The Asian-African group members discussed the Anglo-French attack on Egypt "in a factual way," Sudjarwo said.

Another meeting of the group was expected to be called after today's Council session.

An official statement issued later said:

"The Asian-African group, in an emergency meeting this afternoon, has expressed its strong feeling in favour of convening an emergency special session of the General Assembly to discuss the grave developments in Egypt."

"Most of the members are ready to sign the request. Some members are still waiting for instructions from their governments."—United Press.

HANGERS-ON COLLIDE

Lisbon, Oct. 31.
 A bunch of people hanging out at the entrance of a full up tram collided with another bunch of people hanging out at the entrance of another tram coming in the opposite direction in a Lisbon street.

Result: Everybody fell on the ground and two of them—two students aged 13 and 14—were injured. It is forbidden to travel on trams hanging out at the door but this prohibition is ignored and is a common sight everyday in Lisbon streets.—China Mail Special.

Victoria's Guardsman

Bogota, Oct. 31.
 Dr. Charles H. Le Franc, who has died here at the age of 85, claimed to have served in "Queen Victoria's Guard."

Dr. Le Franc was born in Martinique and came to Colombia in 1898. With his Napoleon III beard, his medical oilcloth bag and thermometer, he became well known in Cartagena where he settled.

It is claimed that in sixty years of medical practice, in Cartagena he had only 80 death certificates to write out.—China Mail Special.

The Tired Hours

IT was past midnight, and the railway terminus was quiet as a wayside halt. There was no movement except from the shadows cast by lamps that swung in the wind, and that of a railway policeman making his rounds. The policeman reached a waiting-room, and there saw Madge—a middle-aged woman, asleep on the floor, upon which she had laid some old newspapers as a mattress.

The policeman nudged Madge awake. "Oh, go away," she said, and all the weariness in the world was in her voice. The policeman drew her up from the floor, and explained that she could not sleep there.

"YOU'RE A LUNATIC," Madge said. "My voice was the kind you hear from the platform at women's gatherings. There was a suggestion of it—that suggested authority."

"The station is closed and if you won't go away, I shall have to arrest you for trespassing," the policeman said.

Madge raised a hand through her hair which was in wild disarray. "You're a lunatic," she said to the policeman. He arrested her.

At Bow Street, later, Madge pleaded not guilty to the charge of trespassing before Mr. John Morrison, Q.C. and when the policeman had told his story, Madge told hers—very briefly.

"PUSHED AROUND," she said. "That's all I can say. I fell absolutely at the end of everything that happened. The magistrate nodded sympathetically and called for Miss Hamilton, the probation officer."

"This is rather a pathetic case," Miss Hamilton began. "This woman is of no fixed address, and for the last four weeks she has been living at a reception centre. She has felt, as she put it, very 'pushed around' and she seems rather bewildered."

"In 1950 she was in hospital for six months, and she tells me that she thinks since then she must have had between 40 and 50 jobs. She is single and is 50 years old. She has not been in trouble before."

"WOULD YOU OBJECT?" THE magistrate turned to Mr. Morrison. "I'm very sorry for you," he said. "You were awfully tired, I know, and please don't think I'm going to regard this as a crime, though technically it is."

"If you want a week's rest, and medical attention, I can arrange that. Would you object, if I were to remand you in custody for a week?"

Madge looked at him as a dog might who has been ill-used and is suspicious of kindness. She said nothing.

"The last thing I want to do," the magistrate pressed, "is to punish you."

"I HATE THE IDEA," Madge said. "And I hate the idea of you wandering the streets," the magistrate said. "Do believe me, it will be just like going to hospital. Please take my advice." Madge closed her eyes and there was a long silence.

Then, "I know it's difficult for you to make up your mind," the magistrate said, "with the utmost gentleness. 'So I'll do it for you—remand you for a week for a medical report.'"

Madge nodded, and slowly went away, too tired to take in the kindness all around her, too tired for anything but sleep.

Racing Cars Arrive In Macao

Macao, Oct. 31. A large number of people gathered at the waterfront today to see the unloading of race cars which have come from Hongkong to participate in the Grand Prix which opens this Saturday.

The cars caused quite a stir, testifying to the growing popularity of a sports event which will bring hundreds of visitors to this Colony for the week-end.

Racing cars from Hongkong were brought by ferry boat and were unloaded at the Fatshan wharf.—France-Press.

GIVE MORAL SUPPORT FOR EGYPT

Cease Attacks Demand By Afro-Asian Countries

United Nations, Oct. 31. The Asian-African group tonight demanded that Britain, France and Israel cease attacks on Egypt at once.

At the same time the group, with 24 votes in the 76-member UN General Assembly, began informal discussions on the type of Middle East resolution they will seek at Thursday's emergency meeting of the Assembly.

The Asian-African nations, spurred by the Indian Prime Minister, Mr. Jawaharlal Nehru, are expected to play a significant role in attempting to restore peace in Egypt.

A least 18 members of the group met after today's meeting of the Security Council under the chairmanship of Dr. T. Sudharwan of Indonesia. They unanimously agreed upon a statement accusing Britain and France of taking the law into their own hands and expressing confidence in the UN Secretary General, Mr. Dag Hammarskjöld, who had hinted he might resign.

The following is the text of the statement.

"The members of the Asian-African group view with indignation the invasion of Egyptian soil by Israeli, British and French forces and the bombardment by the British resulting in loss of life and property to Egypt. No member of the United Nations, not even permanent members of the Security Council, may take the law into his own hands.

"The members of the Asian-African group vigorously condemn the naked aggression of Israel, Britain and France against sovereignty of Egypt and the gross violation of the UN Charter which this act entails. The only course which even at this late hour would help to restore the principle of law and justice and enable the UN to exercise its responsibility for the preservation of peace would be for Israeli, British and French forces to cease bombardment of the territory and people of Egypt, withdraw immediately from the soil of Egypt, and to act in conformity with expression of world conscience through the various organs of the UN.

"Further, the members of the Asian-African group deplore the fact that actions of two permanent members of the Security Council have resulted in placing in doubt the continued utility of the high office of the Secretary General, in this connection the group reaffirms its confidence in the Secretary General.

"The members of the Asian-African group consider that the very magnitude and gravity of the present crisis calls not for doubt but for renewed efforts and faith in the United Nations.

"The members of the Asian-African group concur fully with the decision of the Security Council to convene an emergency special session of the General Assembly on this matter."

Consultations of Asian and African delegations with their home governments continued throughout the night.

Dr. Sudharwan told the United Press there was no difference of opinion among the group members on the need for swift, resolute action on the Egyptian issue, but that owing to the rapidity of events in the Middle East some delegates were still trying to find out exactly how they should proceed.

India has always been a powerful force in organising action by the group. Mr. V. K. Krishna Menon, Mr. Nehru's personal envoy, has usually taken the initiative in recent Assembly sessions but he is not in New York for this one.

The Egyptian UN delegate, Mr. Omar Loutfi, attended the group meeting this evening and expressed satisfaction with the statement issued.—United Press.

Grassano, Oct. 31. Marshal Pietro Badoglio, Italian conqueror of Abyssinia in 1935, and first Prime Minister after the fall of fascism, died here tonight. He was 89.—Reuter.

Miss Barbara Fei's Farewell Recital

Yet another young artist is leaving Hongkong to pursue further studies in Europe. Miss Barbara Fei, long well-known to Hongkong audiences for her clear soprano voice and her charming delivery, gave her farewell performance last night at the University Hall.

The concert was sponsored jointly by the British Council and the Crescendo Choral Society, whose creator and conductor, Professor Chao Mei-pa, has been Miss Fei's teacher for the last six years.

She shared the concert with Mr. Hector McCulloch, pianist, who is in Hongkong for some months as Examiner for the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music. Mr. McCulloch not only played two groups of solos, but also accompanied Miss Fei, and more-over explained both the songs and the piano works to the audience with delightful lucidity.

Both Professor Chao and Miss Fei herself are to be congratulated on the improvement in her voice and her musicianship generally. As I first remember her, she was a competent singer with a voice kept well in tune but was inclined to be harsh and "edgy." The sharp edge has disappeared now, the voice has rounded and softened and the range increased.

Miss Fei takes her high notes with ease and always produces a pleasant tone. I think she could aim at a greater variety of interpretation, for her rendering of all the songs was rather uniformly sweet, serene, gay. She will probably find that she comes to do better in the lighter and more lyrical than in the heavy and dramatic, but should experiment with other styles.

Charged With Spreading False Rumour

Five Chinese on charges of committing a public nuisance, were remanded for two days in Police custody by Mr. A. A. Huggins at Kowloon this morning.

The defendants were Tse Siu-ying, 27, shopkeeper, of 437 Shanghai Street, first floor; Kwong Yung-lung, 28, student, of 22 Ferry Street, second floor; Wong Kwong, 51, driver, of 153 Shek Kip Mei Village, ground floor; Ma Cheuk-kuan, 24, hawker, of 88 Argyle Street, second floor; and Tse Tung-hoi, 24, unemployed, of 85 Wei Ching Street, ground floor.

They were alleged to have spread rumours among members of the public in Jordan Road on October 30, that the district of Tsim Wan was under curfew, well knowing that such a statement was false.

Child Born On Bus

A Chinese woman, Lau Lan, of Ma Shan Village, gave birth to a son on a No. 8 Route Bus in Queen's Road Central, at 11.30 this morning.

The birth is particularly suspicious, according to Chinese belief. The child was born in front of the Hongkong Shanghai Bank, a symbol of wealth, and on a bus of China Motor Bus Company, who have on similar occasions presented the newborn with a souvenir.

Lau Lan was travelling on the bus on her way to hospital. At the stop opposite the Bank all other passengers alighted while the woman's ambulance was attended to by the midwife. Later she and her child were taken to Queen's Hospital where they are now both resting comfortably.

LOVELY WORKS

Mr. McCulloch played a group of lovely Elizabethan works for virginals by Giles Farnaby, Peter Philips and Byrd, and a "Fugue" for harpsichord by Purcell. His second group consisted of Schubert's "Romances," emotional work, which was shadowed some of his later songs, and four Preludes by Scriabin. Both Scriabin and Schubert have been somewhat

More Commons Questions On Kowloon Riots

London, Oct. 31. Mr. Stan Aubrey, a Labour member, asked today in the House of Commons for a statement from the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Alan Lennox-Boyd, on the disturbances at Kowloon.

Mr. Lennox-Boyd replied he had nothing to add to the statement he made to the House last Wednesday.

Mr. Aubrey said that on the occasion of the disturbances people were celebrating the anniversary of the establishment of the republic set up by Dr. Sun Yat-sen, founder of the first Chinese Republic which Britain had supported in the past, as a national holiday.

He asked the Colonial Secretary for an assurance that nobody would interfere with the hoisting of flags on a holiday of this character.

The Minister said that if flags led to such incidents they must be looked at in a rather different perspective.—Reuter.

INCREASE IN AID FOR ASIA

Latest developments in external aid extended to Asian countries were discussed today—the third day of the United Nations Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East (ECAFE) committee on industry and trade.

The ECAFE conference began in Tokyo on October 29 and is due to end on November 6. Among the main features of today's report were:

1.—That the United States had increased its financial aid, set up a special fund to promote regional projects and intensified its efforts for the disposal of agricultural surplus products.

2.—That Russia had concluded economic assistance agreements with Afghanistan, India, and Burma.

3.—That Communist China had signed an aid agreement with Cambodia.

4.—That Japanese reparation agreements had been signed with Burma and the Philippines, and a special yen debt agreement with Thailand.

5.—That an international financial corporation had been established and.

6.—That the Colombo Plan had been extended to June, 1961.

The report said that United States government's net grants and credits (non military) to countries of the region had increased in 1955 from US$430 million to US$779 million. Main beneficiaries were Cambodia, Laos, Vietnam, Republic of Korea, India, and Pakistan.

Manila, Nov. 1. A woman, Huk commander, Florentino Huk, former wife of the famous guerrilla Colonel Augustin Huk, may lose both her legs, Army physicians announced yesterday.

Her legs were badly mutilated when they were hit during an encounter she had with Army troops in Laguna Province, Southern Luzon, which led to her capture last Friday.

Manila, the only known woman Huk commander, was identified as the common-law wife of Huk Commander Pedro Cagulin who carries a US$10,000 reward on his head.—France-Press.
